San Antonio Author & Civic Commissioner Turns Traumatic Brain Injury Recovery into a Blueprint for Universal Access and Community Resilience

SAN ANTONIO, TX — On July 14, 2016, a devastating accident resulted in a traumatic brain injury and vocal cord paralysis for André D. Greene. Ten years later, Greene has transformed personal adversity into a powerful public mission, publishing the #1 Amazon bestselling memoir Keep Calm & Live On: This wasn't the life I planned. It's the one I fought for.

Today, Greene serves as District 5 Commissioner on the Multimodal Transportation Commission for the City of San Antonio, bringing lived experience and advocacy to local transit, pedestrian infrastructure, and universal accessibility initiatives across the Alamo City.
